

LEGION WILL OPEN GALA CELEBRATION STARTING SATURDAY

Festival to Include Rides, Booths and Food Stands

Final preparations for the American Legion Carnival to be held at Naber Field beginning July 1 through the Fourth, will be completed tomorrow night in time for the opening Saturday.

Booths, rides, pop corn, beer and barbecues will be attractions offered on the grounds by the Legionnaires this year in their annual summer festival. A Merry-Go-Round, the Ferris Wheel, and Terraplane ride concessions will be available the four days of the celebration.

Concessions started unloading and preparing for the festival early this week. Ample parking space is promised the public by officials in charge of arrangements. Lester Osmond, Jr., will be in charge of the parking grounds. All Legionnaires will be active in making the affair a success, and members of the Auxiliary will serve as cashiers.

The carnival in other years has been held in Antioch, within the corporate limits, but due to a ruling made by the village trustees this year, the carnival is being held outside the village limits.

The festival is sponsored for the purpose of raising money for the local Legion post to carry on its projects in the community, and up until last year has been financially a success.

Farmers Will Hear National Leader at Grayslake Friday

Earl S. Smith, president of the state agricultural association, will speak tomorrow (Friday) night at Grayslake grade school, under the auspices of the Lake County Farm Bureau.

A wedding gown review will be presented by the Lake County Home Bureau units in connection with Mr. Smith's address. Downs will be secured in this showing according to age. Additional entertainment will be provided by the 4-H Club Orchestra and the Ella Merry Makers.

Mr. Smith is one of the best known leaders of organized farmers in the country and is credited with working twelve years to aid in passing the farm relief bill. W. J. Sawyer, president of the Lake County bureau, is in charge of arrangements.

Farm Assistant Exam To Close July 7

The United States Civil Service Commission has announced that it has received a sufficient number of applications for emergency agricultural assistant positions to meet present needs, and that the receipt of applications will close on July 7. Applications must be on file in the commission's office at Washington, D. C., on or before that date. The examination was announced to fill vacancies under the newly-created Agricultural Adjustment Administration of the United States Department of Agriculture.

Payments Light Tho Penalty Goes on Saturday

Although only one day remains before the July 1 penalty becomes effective, the tax payments during this week have been small, according to County Treasurer Jay B. Morse.

Monday, as an example, brought only $6,000 in collections. Prior to Monday, payments have been running around $5,000. The city of Waukegan is outstanding in the county for failure to pay taxes, Mr. Morse states.

Library Receives More Than 200 Books in Gift from Camp Chi at Loon Lake

More than two hundred books of all types and classifications have been received by the Antioch Public Library this past week as a gift from Camp Chi, Loon Lake, through Miss Anna Seaman, included in the collection are such authors as Carl Van Vechten, Charles Norris, Leonard Merrick, and T. S. Stripling.

Five mystery stories are another addition to the library made recently, because of the popular demand for this type of fiction. Among this collection is Van Dine's "Green Murder Case." These books are already in circulation, but those from Camp Chi will not be catalogued for circulation for two weeks or more.

The library record for June, as kept by Miss Mary Stanley, librarian, shows that the circulation of books has held up well since the close of school. A larger number of adults than children are using the library this month she states.

While books of fiction loaned out number books of non-fiction as much as six or seven to one in a day, the percentage of non-fiction circulated here is larger than at most libraries, Miss Stanley states. Of non-fiction books, figures for this month show travel to be the most popular subject, with biography, history and science following. Book gifts have been received recently also from Buddy Anderson, Mrs. Enri Somerville and Mrs. Carl Hughes.

County Farm Advisor Says Crop Loss Great

Early Rains and Present Drought Combine to Cause Damage

The prolonged drought combined with the heavy and continual rains this spring which prevented early planting, is causing a great loss in farm crops this year. H. C. Glickerson, farm advisor of the Lake County Farm Bureau believes.

Corn, while germinating in a fairly normal manner, will not develop into a profitable crop if the drought continues and planting of early corn was prevented almost entirely, the advisor explained.

Cutting of alfalfa which is nearing completion has yielded a good crop, although it is impossible now to tell what the second cutting will be. A continuation of dry, hot weather, with no more rain than has fallen since June 1, will make a poor second cutting, Mr. Glickerson states.

Oats, barley and wheat are cut with the best prospect being in decidedly winter wheat, Glickerson said. Lack of rain is causing deterioration in small grains. The soy bean crop, he explained, seems to be the only normal one unless the late corn can still be considered.

Even the pastures for stock is suffering. On the high ground, and well drained areas the grass is drying out and failing to renew where it is cropped down by stock. The condition in this county is far less serious than downstate, according to Associated Press dispatches.

Governor Vetoes Oleomargarine Bill

Governor Henry Horner has vetoed the oleomargarine bill which would have imposed a tax of 10 cents per pound upon all oleomargarine sold in Illinois that was manufactured from a certain class of oils. The tax would have become effective July 1, 1933.

In vetoing the bill Gov. Horner among other things, said: "In a written opinion delivered to me June 13, 1933, the Attorney General, after a consideration of the bill, advised me that in his opinion, it violated the uniformity provision of Article IX of the Constitution of this State. Because of the fact that in the opinion of the Attorney General, this bill is unconstitutional, and void, I veto it."

HORTON WILL FILL FAIR ASS'N VACANCY LEFT BY C. L. KUTIL

Exposition to Be Held Oct. 5, 6, and 7; State Money Cut

Floyd Horton was elected to succeed C. L. Kutil as secretary-treasurer of the Antioch-Lake Villa County Fair and Poultry Association at the meeting held last Friday at Antioch Township High School. Mr. Kutil, who was president at one time of the Antioch Township Poultry Association, and has been secretary since the organization of the body in its present form, because of ill health, asked to be released of the office this year.

D. H. Minto was again re-elected president of the organization and Emmet King, vice president. Members of the board of directors chosen in addition to Minto, King and Horton are Bert Edwards, and Harry Tilletson.

Dates for the township fair were announced as Oct. 5, 6, and 7 following the meeting. State appropriations for premiums to be paid at local fairs amounting to $60,000 last year, have been cut to $40,000 this year, which will mean a one third cut in the money available for premiums. However, there was a decrease last year in the number of fairs held. The local association last year received $908 from the state and made a profit of $227.

Heads of the departments remain the same as last year except that Ralph McGuire will replace S. E. Pollock as superintendent of the Floriculture department. Heads of other departments are Emmet King, farm products; Bert Edwards, Poultry; Charles Padlock, fruits and vegetables; Mrs. Carl Hughes, pantry stores; Mrs. Clarence Crowley, domestic and fine arts; Mrs. Fred Hackett, fine arts; Education, W. C. Petty; Vocational, Kenneth Denman.

Higher premiums to be awarded for popular breeds of poultry were one of the changes which was made in the catalogue at the meeting held Wednesday night. Other minor changes were made.

The Antioch-Lake Villa fair held last fall was one of twenty of such expositions held in the state to show a profit. It was also the only fair held in Lake County last year.

Smaller Crowds Expected With Fourth on Tuesday and Fair as Attraction

Fourth of July, a date of importance on the resort calendar, is not expected to draw the usual crowds this year due to the holiday falling on Tuesday and the counter attraction of the Century of Progress Exposition at Chicago.

Continued hot weather, however, will undoubtedly bring crowds to the lake this weekend, of which many will remain over until the Fourth. Fishing, which has continued to be good this past week, will undoubtedly attract some pleasure seekers as will also the bathing beaches.

A four day carnival to be staged by the Legion on the Naber field near St. Peter's Church will be the only official celebration to be held during the four-day period. Four day celebrations are also being observed at some of the dance spots in this area.

The Charles Hostetter family moved this week to a house north of town on the Henry Herman property.

PETITE LAKE FARMER KILLED WHEN STRUCK BY FALLING HAYFORK

Albert Gebhardt Dies While Unloading Wagon When Implement Breaks

Albert Gebhardt, 49 years old, a Petite Lake farmer, was instantly killed while unloading hay yesterday, when a hayfork dropped from the peak of his barn piercing his body.

Gebhardt was standing on a box rack hay wagon when the 40-pound fork pierced the neck, and tore downward along the spine, leaving him crumpled on the floor of the wagon. Relatives immediately called Dr. R. D. Williams who stated that Gebhardt died immediately from the blow. State Highway Policeman Frank Valenta, also called, stated that the fork which operated on a trolley in the barn to carry the cargo of hay from the wagon to the mow above, unhooked in some manner.

The body was taken to Chicago this morning where services will be held. Mr. Gebhardt lived in Chicago until the time he moved here.

Gebhardt with his brother Walter, has occupied the farm for the past five years. He was working with his brother at the time and a nephew, Eugene Gelger of Chicago, inquest was held at the Strang funeral parlor Wednesday afternoon.

Survivors of Gebhardt are his brothers, Walter, Herman, Gustaf, Otto and Frank, all of Chicago, and Paul of Euclid O., and a sister, Mrs. Anna Gelger, mother of the nephew visiting him. Mr. Gebhardt was not married. He was born in Frankhausen, Germany.

Roller Skates Bring Couple 150 Miles from Fort Wayne to Antioch

Two travelers, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Blake-Hedge, who covered more than 150 miles in 5 days by roller skate, arrived in Antioch Wednesday night, tired but convinced that this mode of travel will reach any destination.

Starting out at 11 o'clock last Friday night and traveling mainly by night when it was cool, the young couple came from Fort Wayne to see the Century of Progress and Mr. Blake-Hedge's second cousin, Mrs. Herbert S. Roberts of Channah Lake. Arriving here at 10 o'clock Wednesday night they were made comfortable by Roy Murrie and J. B. Dickson until the Roberts could drive into town for them.

Flat tires, depleted gas tanks and other difficulties of travel were entirely absent from the Blake-Hedges' trip for these roller skate tourists carried sixteen extra rollers with them which were all the repairs or replacements necessary.

Traveling by night for the most part, they spent the days resting at farmhouses and in towns along the way. The trip was made on concrete pavement.

SALES TAX TAKES EFFECT SATURDAY

Bill Makes No Exemptions Except for "Occasional" Sale

Passage of the second sales tax bill, which will place a 2 per cent tax on all sales made on or after July 1, was completed Tuesday. The bill makes no exemptions among retail merchants except those who make occasional sales, but are not in the business of selling. Exemptions in the former bill which set the tax at 3 per cent, caused it to be declared unconstitutional.

Little difficulty in settling the tax in operation is anticipated since merchants have already had experience in applying the tax of 3 cents on the dollar. The bill was signed Wednesday by Governor Horner.

VILLAGE TRUSTEES EMPLOY MAN FOR STREETWORK AT $60

Dunn Submits Report for Past Fiscal Year; To Be Published

Fred Peterson was awarded the job for village streetwork among fifteen applicants at a meeting of the board held Monday night. The salary was fixed at $60 a month, the work to continue as long as the board feels his services are necessary.

The report of James Dunn, former treasurer, was read and accepted at the meeting and a beer dispensary license granted to the Williams Hotel, operated by E. J. Williams, in the property formerly known as the Antlers Hotel.

Mr. Peterson started his work on the streets Tuesday morning, painting the yellow parking lines on Main St. He fills a vacancy left when the board did away with the office of village policeman, placing all police duties in the hands of the marshal, Simon Simonsen, who formerly did street work along with his duties in connection with the water department.

Lights Proposed
Discussion of a proposal to add two street lights on Hillside Ave., one at the intersection of Hillside and Orchard and the other farther down the street towards Lake, was deferred because of the absence of H. J. Vos, chairman of the lighting committee, who was unavoidably absent that evening.

Mr. Dunn's report, to be published in next week's issue of The Antioch News, covers the period from April 1932 to 1933. Balances are shown in several departments under which funds are expended, the balances being as of March 3 and 4, and not including expenditures after that date in the months of March and April.

According to the report, $6,007.07 was received into the general fund which is used for insurance, services to the village, and general supplies, $2,224.47 coming from taxes, and the rest from special fees, including dog taxes, rental of hall, amusement licenses, fire taxes, and miscellaneous moneys.

Read and Bridge Fund
In the road and bridge fund, $3,136.69, was collected during the year, of which $1,503.75 came from the vehicle tax receipts. Water rent receipts for the year amounted to $4083.76, totaling, with the balance left from the year before and meter assessments, $6,063.44.

A sum of $1,511.15 was received into the bonds and interest fund during the year, of which $12.46 was a balance from the year before. More than half the sum handled by the library fund was a balance from the year before which made the total, $1,077.32. A report of the funds received and disbursed for the special assessment was also included in Mr. Dunn's figures submitted to the board. Laurel Powles, elected to office this spring, now holds the office of treasurer.

Announcement that Hans Von Holwede, instructor in music at Antioch Township High School and Grade School, has definitely decided to remain in Antioch during the coming year was made this morning from the office of L. O. Bright, High School principal.

Mr. Von Holwede, since receiving an offer from the High School at Argo, Ill., has been undecided whether to continue teaching here or accept the Argo offer. His decision to remain was made because he likes Antioch so well. Mr. Von Holwede states, "He has been an instructor in the Antioch schools since 1928. Recently he purchased a home here."

KEEPING COOL

How to keep cool when the mercury points to sizzling heat, is a problem in which great interest is evinced these days when we have become convinced beyond a shade of doubt that the inhabitants of tropical climates are indeed sorry and unfortunate individuals.

Let the mercury crawl around and above ninety, and we sit under an electric fan, or manipulate a fan ourselves, mop our brows, frequently walk to the door to see if by any chance a breeze is stealing up on us, and proclaim to the world at large that we have never suffered such unendurable heat. But we do very little towards keeping cool.

This matter of dress plays a significant part in keeping us warm and cool. Loose garments are the thing for hot weather, experts in dealing with the heat, assure us. Nothing should be binding on the body. Men's shirts should follow the lines of the Chinaman's coat; or in other words, don't tuck your shirt in during hot weather. There should be no neckties, or collars, and the materials worn should be cottons and linens, which are cool fabrics. Women, whose dress is eminently more sensible than men's during hot weather, should wear loose weaved materials, and no garments which are tight.

A second rule in remaining cool is refraining from any pronounced activity, and keeping mentally cool, which is more difficult than the first. Storming at the weatherman, or the ice man, because he forgot the ice, can shove our personal thermometers up five or six degrees in a ten minute period.

This matter of quenching our thirst has some bearing on our physical comfort in hot weather, and it is being agreed these days that fruit beverages, lemonade, and similar drinks are most quenching, although doubtless tomorrow, these same advocates will have again decided that water is superior to all other liquids in dealing with the thirst. Beer as a hot weather remedy has its defendants among those who have actual experience on which to base their conclusions, and therefore should know.

Yes, there's much that can be done in scientifically dealing with this hot weather, but the general run of us will continue to tuck in our shirts, drink what we please, and become mentally feverish over the climatic conditions.

HAIL TO A SAFE FOURTH!

Independence Day of old was celebrated with reckless abandon. Hundreds of persons of all ages lost their lives playing with fireworks, guns and explosives. Others were drowned or killed in motor accidents. Now, the Fourth divides catastrophe "honors" with almost any week-end; except by virtue of the ceaseless efforts of safety organizations and accident and fire prevention workers, it is apt to be a shade safer. This is because people are keyed to its imminent hazards. They are safety-conscious.

Last year, on the "morning after," the Associated Press reported 119 motor vehicle deaths, 90 drownings, 10 firework fatalities and 26 deaths from other causes—a total of 245. This is disgraceful enough, but superior to the 1931 toll of 354. No one knows the extent of serious or minor injuries, because only a fraction of them is reported. The National Society for the Prevention of Blindness estimates that 50 persons lose completely the sight of one of both eyes and that 500 more suffer minor eye injuries every year. This record is made by fireworks alone.

In recognition of the chief holiday hazards, fireworks, automobiles and swimming, the National Bureau of Casualty and Surety Underwriters offers the following advice:

If you go off on a motor trip make sure your car is in safe operating condition; drive safely; keep to the right; drive at a reasonable speed; have 500 feet of clear distance ahead before you attempt to pass other cars. Watch out for pedestrians.

If you go swimming—swim in safe places. Things to examine are tides, currents, depths, sunken debris and impurities. Be sure to stay within your own limits. Wait at least two hours after eating, and then take along a friend for safety's sake.

If you must use fireworks—be on the alert every minute. Give yourself plenty of space. Keep them away from inflammable materials. Keep away from small children and animals. Cauterize all small cuts and bruises immediately—tetanus poisoning is swift and deadly. The best advice about fireworks is: Use something else.

Remember all safety rules and "All hail to a safe Fourth!"

PINK LEMONADE

A carnival and the Fourth brings back those days when the dazzle of the show business and night fireworks filled our small souls with inexplicable ecstasy and satisfaction. Pink lemonade in those days never tasted like colored water and the man who said "Ticket please" to us on the Merry-Go-Round was a god-like creature.

Sometimes we hear a person of some forty odd years, the age when "life begins," scoffing at the carnival, and we wonder how in forty years he could forget so completely the lure of childhood's activities. But not all of us are Conrads who take up the quest of our youth, those golden days, when the world is an elegant place peopled with superb persons. It is seldom anyone but those who are approaching, or who have reached, old age who says, "When I was a boy," or "When I was a girl," except, of course, those chronic cranks who see every generation save their own possessed with the instincts of Satan.

But to those who indulge in brief flights back to that yesterday, touching that child of other years, an illusion always lingers. These prowlers who invade days which have gone by "know that the world is round, but believe that it is square." Pink lemonade may have lost its potency, and the Merry-Go-Round man his splendor, but memories sift a glamorous dust in the air which transfigures all things.

Yesterdays

Taken from The Antioch News
June 25, 1933

A bolt of lightning that residents declared looked like a gigantic ball of fire that split open the roof late Saturday night, struck the main exhibition building at the Lake County fair grounds at Libertyville, started a fire and before any aid could be rendered, the building valued at between $2,000 and $3,000 was a mass of charred embers.

At the blue rock shoot held at Loon Lake last Sunday, Ben Van Duzer won first honors in two events, and tied with Lew Folter for first in the third. In shooting off, Folter won.

A new shoe store will be opened in the J. J. Morley building on Main Street recently vacated by John Engman. Mrs. Mildred A. Blunt is the proprietor of the new business.

A large number at Millburn attended the barn raising of Alfred Spatford.

Miss Augusta Lehmann celebrated her birthday at her mother's cottage at Lake Villa Sunday.

His Grace, Archbishop George W. Mundelein, visited St. Peter's Church Tuesday and at 11 o'clock, administered the sacrament of confirmation to eighty-six children. His Grace was assisted by the Right Rev. E. F. Hoban, chancellor of the Archdiocese of Chicago. Frank Dunn acted as sponsor for the boys and Miss Ella Mitchell of Long Lake for the girls.

The first Fourth of July accident of the season took place Tuesday afternoon and for a time it was feared that little Teddy Hueker had lost his sight as a result.

At the present time there is no one conducting a milk route in Antioch and the people who have been accustomed to having milk delivered at their homes greatly miss the convenience.

Bertha James Gilbert will sing Saturday evening at the Majestic.

If you have anything to contribute to the Country Store at the picnic grounds on the Fourth, kindly leave it with Mrs. Della Mathews, Victoria street.

The Lehman building next to the bank has been obtained at Lake Villa for the Red Cross Auction sale to be held July 13. The Allendale band will furnish music and supper will be served in the Potter restaurant. The sale will begin at 1 o'clock.

Hints for Homemakers

By Jane Rogers

A GOOD general rule to follow in seasoning green vegetables is to use a dash of sugar to a pinch of salt. Without artificially sweetening the dish, the sugar restores the garden sweetness which so many vegetables begin to lose on their way to the kitchen.

Use needles to pin down the pleats when pressing a pleated skirt. The needles will leave no marks when you remove them.

A few juniper berries, obtainable at the drug store, placed in a frying pan that has been heated until very hot, will release aromatic fumes which will quickly drive the odor of cooking out of the house.

91 about 2 o'clock Tuesday. The highest previously recorded on a corresponding date was 90 marked up in 1910.

The new Women's Club officers for the year 1933-1934 are: president, Mrs. John Darby; vice president, Mrs. Leonard Hughes; secretary, Mrs. Henry Grimm; treasurer, Mrs. Charles Powles.

A car in which Hohort and Miss Phyllis Morley were riding collided with a truck driven by Richard Sylvester Saturday. No one was injured.

Wisconsin State Fair Great Market For Farm Products

Thousands of dollars worth of farm and factory products are sold annually at the Wisconsin state fair. The fair is very definitely changing from a show window to a marketing exposition, says Manager Ralph E. Ammon.

The eighty-third state fair will be held this year for the six days of August 27 to September 1, with a 25 cent gate for the first time in history.

Honey, maple syrup, potatoes, cheese and machinery, sold heavily at last year's fair and improving conditions assure large orders during the 1933 exposition. In spite of prohibition, orders for hundreds of cases of beer were taken by a Milwaukee brewery in 1932.

One Wisconsin machinery manufacturer reports that it sold two threshing machines, three tractors, a silo filler, a tractor plow, and a field cultivator at the 1932 fair.

Langlade county sells many carloads of potatoes through its state fair exhibit annually. Hundreds of pounds of honey were sold directly by Wisconsin beekeepers and over two thousand cards were given out to inquirers for Pierce county maple syrup.

A large number of farm and fur bearing animals, dogs, chickens, pigeons and bantams are also sold.

"What was the most difficult part of the civil service exam you took at the postoffice?"

"Writing with the post office pen."

Time for Insurance Old Man Doollittle was past 90 when he thought it was time for him to take out some life insurance. The agent told him the company couldn't accept such a risk as that—a man over 90 years of age.

"Well," squeaked the old man, "if you look up your figures you'll find that mighty few people die after the age of 90."

"Have you any early American furniture?" "Oh, yes. We still use a battery radio set."

HOLD ON TO YOUTH

Hand Poise

By Marie H. Callahan, Editor, Modern Beauty Shop Magazine

Those great numbers of us who are not professional beauticians feel we have done pretty well in the rush and hurry of our busy lives we manage to keep our hair, face and figure attractive, but if we were to study the famous actresses of the day, we would soon observe what a large part hands have to play in creating a completely attractive woman—not only the beauty of the hands themselves but the way they are used. "If I just have something to do with my hands I'll be all right," is a frequent platitude of amateur actresses. And how few of us have mastered the art of "hand poise."

Of course it stands to reason that you cannot be at ease about your hands if you are conscious of their being red and chapped or in need of an expert manicurist. In this day and age when most women are actively engaged either in housework or in the business of earning a living, hands come in for a lot of use—and a lot of observation from the male sex too, incidentally. In the case of the housewife, dishwater is the chief enemy of hand beauty, while with the business woman, exposure to all kinds of weather with the resultant chapping and roughening of the skin is the biggest stumbling block to hand beauty.

It is a good idea to establish the habit of using rubber gloves when doing any sort of wet work. Frequent application of a skin lotion made of equal parts of glycerin and rose water is helpful.

Careless manicuring, however, is perhaps the worst sin we can commit against our hands. Just at present good taste does not put a taboo on lively lifting of finger nails, but carelessly applied nail polish is still just as unattractive as ever, and grotesquely long nails give a claw-like appearance to the hand.

One frequent manicuring error is attempting to push the cuticle down before the skin is thoroughly softened by soaking in warm, soapy water. Only after this soaking, should the cuticle be gently pushed down with an orange-wood stick, wrapped in cotton soaked in a cuticle removing fluid. Of course the nails should never be cut but always filed from sides to center.

Fragile or ribbed nails are especially difficult to keep neat. This condition is usually caused by lack of lime in the body and will have to be corrected through your diet. Drinking milk is of course the easiest way to get this necessary lime. A quart a day gives you all you need.

Hard skin at the outer corners of the nails is not to develop in your hands, particularly when manicuring has been unskillfully done. Soaking the fingers in olive oil every day will help remedy this condition. Those little white marks often caused by knocking the nail accidentally can be eliminated by applying a paste made of equal parts of turpentine and myrrh.

Finally, secure in the assurance that your hands are as soft and beautiful as good care and careful manicuring can make them—forget them.

Not Our Jokes

An Englishman, according to popular legend, gets three laughs from a joke—first when the joke is told; second, when it is explained to him; and third, when he understands it. The Frenchman gets only the first two—the German he never sees the point. The American gets one—he won't wait for an explanation. And the American gets none at all, because he's heard the joke before.

Modern Problem

Susan: "Tom is going to give up smoking for me."
Sara: "How old fashioned."
Susan: "No, not that. He says we can't both afford it."

OVERCOMING CHILD'S FEAR OF THE DENTIST

Most modern parents realize the importance of frequent dental examinations, but unfortunately not all modern children do. At least some of them raise objections to visiting the dentist. In past years there may have been some reason for this fear, but today with the development of comparative painless dentistry, the child need have no fear, particularly if he goes frequently enough so that no serious trouble has a chance to get under way.

The child's fear of the dentist usually has no foundation in any actual experience of his own, nor does he come into the world with an instinctive fear of dental treatment. Therefore, the only way this fear can be implanted in his mind, is by hearing others talk about painful experiences, either real or imagined, or by hearing such careless phrases as "It was as bad as going to the dentist."

It is most unwise to play upon the child's dislike of dentistry even as a means of urging him to take care of his teeth. For instance, don't say "If you don't brush your teeth you'll have to go to the dentist."

Early Treatment Saves Future Pain.

You, as parents, can try to keep people from repeating before the child exaggerated stories of their experiences in the dentist chair. Also, emphasize to the child that good teeth mean good looks as well as good health, and that by going to the dentist regularly every six months, his teeth will be kept in such good condition that painful treatment will never be necessary, whereas, if he puts it off some serious trouble may develop.

Of course there are differences in dentists. Select an considerate dentist as you possibly can for your child. Do all you can to prevent and overcome your child's fears. If you are unsuccessful, take him to the dentist anyway and have his teeth attended to. To delay is not kindness but a cruelty. Teeth neglected in childhood will no doubt give real cause for fear later in life.

This is one of a series of articles on "How to Have Attractive Teeth" released in cooperation with and approved by the public service committee of the Chicago Dental Society.

Cheaper Transportation

A live-wire salesman rushed up to the home of a doctor in a small village about 3:00 a. m. and asked him to come at once to a distant town. The doctor cranked his driver and they drove furiously to their destination.

Upon their arrival the salesman asked: "How much is your fee, doctor?"

"Three dollars," said the physician in surprise.

"Here you are," said the salesman, handing over the money; "the blamed garage keeper wanted fifteen dollars to drive me over when I missed my train."

How?

John: "Is a chicken three weeks old big enough to eat?"
Jim: "Of course not!"
John: "Then how does it live?"

Constant advertising will create a demand for any commodity of merit.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

"Christian Science" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, June 25.

The Golden Text was, "The people that walked in darkness have seen a great light: they that dwell in the land of the shadow of death, upon them hath the light shined" (Isaiah 9:2).

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "Howbeit when he, the Spirit of truth, is come, he will guide you into all truth: for he shall not speak of himself; but whatsoever he shall hear, that shall he speak: and he will show you things to come. He shall glorify me: for he shall receive of mine, and shall show it unto you" (John 16:13, 14).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "Divine Truth, Life, and Love gave Jesus authority over sin, sickness, and death. His mission was to reveal the Science of celestial being, to prove what God is and what He does for man" (p. 23).

White Collar Man

Has Less Cancer

The professional, business and white collar groups in general have less cancer than do the wage earners of the country, while the death rate from this disease has increased far more rapidly among men than women during the last decade according to freshly completed studies made by the State Department of Public Health. A delay of five months between date of first noticeable symptoms and time of visit to a physician, characterized by Dr. Frank J. Jirka as the most fatal factor in cancer, was the average for all cancer patients whose history could be obtained.

Would Use Animal Fats

A bill prohibiting the manufacture and sale for domestic consumption of oleomargarine which contains less than 75 per cent of animal fat by weight, has been introduced in congress by Representative Harold Knutson, of Minnesota. He states that since 1918 the use of animal fats in the manufacture of oleo has decreased from 56.8 per cent to 12.48 per cent in 1932, while the use of coconut oil has increased from .03 per cent to 61.73 per cent in the same period. He contends that this trend has ruined the domestic market for animal fats and has enabled manufacturers to sell their product at a price which is ruinous to the dairy industry.

CHANNEL LAKE COUNTRY CLUB NEWS

The first card party of the season which was held on Tuesday was most encouraging, as twenty-two ladies turned out on that hot day, not only for the card game which followed the luncheon, but also for the pleasant social contact which this event brings about every week during the summer months. The high score for the day was made by Mrs. Oliver Johnson, of Antioch, and the second score was won by Mrs. William Mills, of Lake Marie.

As Tuesday falls on a holiday next week, the ladies agreed to meet on Wednesday, and all reservations for the luncheon should be telephoned to the Club house before ten a. m. Wednesday.

This spell of warm weather should bring out a large crowd over the coming week-end, and it is anticipated that most of the cottages will be filled for the long holiday.

HOLD ON TO YOUTH

Vitamins—the Protectors of Your Beauty

By Marie H. Callahan, Editor
Modern Beauty Shop Magazine

You've heard a lot about vitamins and health, but probably not so much about vitamins and beauty. However, it is true that vitamins are essential to natural healthy beauty. Starting at the head of the alphabet with Vitamin A we find that this vitamin is a builder of general health, promoting proper physical development and building resistance against infections—particularly against infections of the eyes (beauty seekers take note). A few of the richest sources of this element are fresh milk, cream, cheese, butter, carrots, lettuce, spinach and tomatoes.

Next comes Vitamin B, found in whole grain cereals, peas, milk, egg yolk, and in most fruits and vegetables. This vitamin is the one that is recommended for those of you who are troubled with loss of appetite, poor digestion or nerve disorders that make you look and feel ragged around the edges. Perhaps you don't think much about whether or not you are getting Vitamin C, but you'd miss it if you didn't have it, for it is this vitamin contained in oranges, lemons, grape fruit, tomatoes and raw leafy vegetables that protects you from scurvy.

Vitamin D has been getting the lion's share of attention lately and it is very important for, among other things, it is necessary for the formation and maintenance of beautiful teeth. Sunshine, cod liver oil, milk, butter, cream, egg yolks—these are a few of the foods that will supply you with Vitamin D.

And last—Vitamin G. It has been discovered in recent experiments that an abundance of this vitamin will do much toward producing in you that "buoyant health" that means the most lasting beauty. One of the richest sources of this vitamin is milk. Spinach, eggs, salmon and liver also supply it.

Vitamins are such comparatively new and mysterious things that they have attracted attention to themselves to the exclusion of some other valuable food elements—such as minerals. Two of the most important of these are calcium and phosphorus. Calcium is a mineral most vital to our beauty as it is essential for beautiful teeth and for "preserving the characteristics of youth." But unfortunately this mineral is one of those most frequently lacking in the American diet. The easiest way to get your full supply of it is through taking a quart of milk every day either as a beverage or used in cooking. This quantity of milk will also give you about three-fourths of your daily phosphorus requirement; the rest can be secured through such foods as eggs, oatmeal or prunes.

No doubt you have noticed that the best sources of almost all these vitamins and minerals are milk, fruits and vegetables. These three foods have been termed by one famous nutritionist—Dr. E. V. McCollum of Johns Hopkins University—as the "protective foods" because an abundance of them taken daily protect health. And obviously anything that protects health automatically protects beauty as well. So let me recommend this easy beauty treatment as the foundation upon which to build a body beautiful in every way—include in your diet each day at least a pint of milk, a quart if possible, two different kinds of fresh fruits, and two different kinds of vegetables, one of the green leafy variety.

A break in their streak of winning gave the Aces a defeat last Sunday at the hands of the Waukegan City Service team in a game played at Waukegan Sportsman Park. Although Down, pitcher for the Aces, fanned twelve men, the City nine was able to chalk up nine hits and 7 scores while the Aces scored 5 hits and 3 scores.

HintsTrain Travel With Children
Calls For Common Sense ComfortClothes Should Be Cool and Practical; Diversion Offered

Traveling by train with children is so surrounded with difficulties and annoyances that most parents prefer staying at home to taking their offspring. In hot weather, it is especially difficult to take a child on a long trip and expect him to be quiet and contented to sit still. For many children, this matter of sitting perfectly still, is practically an impossibility.

In traveling with the children, common sense is greatly needed in the preparations which are made for the trip. As much as possible, all plans should be made towards the children's comfort, which will eventually mean your comfort as well.

Since you know in advance that the trip will be dirty and tiresome, don't dress your boy or girl in fancy clothes which wrinkle and muss easily and will look bedraggled and soiled. Dark colored clothes, in cool cottons, should be the rule with the children's traveling clothes. Organdies, ruffled crepe de chine, and white clothes should be barred. Sear-suckers, broadcloths, prints, and similar fabrics will be found practical. If the destination of the trip is a relative's home where the child will be taken directly from the train, put her as well as him in one of these attractive play suits which are so comfortable and practical.

Allow Freedom

When the children have been dressed as neatly as possible, with perfect comfort for the trip, don't worry about their clothes. Let them be as free and active as they can without being a nuisance to other passengers in the train. In dressing the children, don't forget to dress them in dark socks, rather than white which are soiled before the trip has begun.

Youngsters, with little to do, often think they are hungry merely because eating offers a break in the monotony. They should not be allowed to overeat on a trip, but fruit, cookies and perhaps sandwiches won't particularly harm them. When fruit is taken, leave at home the kinds which will drip juice, for nothing will sooner make a child sticky and soiled than fruit juice. Oranges for that reason are not a good choice, but a jar of the juice with paper cups may be taken if the children are particularly fond of it. Needless to say, napkins and a towel will be invaluable in helping to keep the children fresh and clean.

Amusing a child on the train is not so difficult, but unfortunately most adults seldom make the effort. Because they are content themselves to sit thinking and enjoying the scenery, they expect the children to likewise be amused. But children require direction in their search for diversion.

Diversion

Picture books and games are easily taken on the trip to keep the child amused. A children's magazine, of which there are several types of interest for the child, bought especially for the occasion, will fill the entire trip with interest for some children. Puzzles are often excellent fun for trips, but the jig-saw type of puzzle is not adaptable to train travel because it is so easily disturbed.

Parents traveling with a single child especially need to devote their attention at intervals to the child's enjoyment. Pointing out new types of scenery, and explaining the sights along the way, will not only increase his enjoyment of the trip, but teach him to be observant.

Games can be invented from watching the scenery. Giving the child a little of your attention will shorten the hours immeasurably, and shorten them for you as well, once you have become absorbed in his enjoyment.

Running up and down the aisles on the train, moving from seat to seat, annoying the passengers in any way, should be sternly prohibited when the child shows interest in such diversion. On the other hand, small legs as well as long ones, become tired with the trip, and where there is a stop of any length, it is always a wise idea to get off the train and stretch a bit on the platform. Where stops do not permit this, an occasional stroll up and down the aisle, will help to quell the restlessness which becomes apparent in the average child when he is confined to a limited space for any length of time.

A pillow carried along, particularly if the child is under seven, may be a cause for thanksgiving if the child has an opportunity to stretch out on the seat when he becomes

Cottage Cheese Is Neglected Food With Varied Possibilities

Cottage cheese is a neglected food in many homes, and unfortunately so, for it offers unlimited possibilities for delicious dishes. Served, as it comes from the dairy or your own collander, it perhaps appeals as much to those who have a taste for it, as when it has been decorated and garnished with fruits and flavorings.

But serving cottage cheese undressed is only the beginning of the ways this dairy food can be used to make attractive dishes which will add to the charm of any menu. Many persons are fond of this cheese with jams. Currant jam or another flavor, is delicious poured over the cottage cheese which is then served with a spoon. The bright jam, with the white cheese, will give the dish decorative value for your table.

Sandwiches made of cottage cheese and jam are also delicious, especially if they are made in two layers, with paper thin slices of whole wheat bread. Apricot, strawberry, currant, peach, and gooseberry jams are delicious in this combination.

Most commonly, perhaps, cottage cheese is used in making salads, for combined with fruits and vegetables, it is a delicacy. A halved canned pear or peach, filled with a scoop of cottage cheese, topped with mayonnaise is an unsurpassable hot or cold weather salad. A combination, a little less known, is cottage cheese and prunes. The prunes are pitted and stuffed with the cheese and chopped walnuts. Cottage cheese is also good with pineapple.

A recipe for a salad with a decided piquancy, which is never to be despised in any meal, calls for 1½ cups of cottage cheese, which is mixed with 2 tablespoons of salad dressing, chopped nuts, celery, green pepper, pimiento, and if desired, cucumber. This can be formed in balls and rolled in chopped nuts before placing on a lettuce leaf for serving.

Chic Chatter

Shoes are appearing in hundreds of styles, in ties, pumps, oxfords, fabrics, sueds, cat, kid and pigskin, and shoes have gone overwhelmingly white this year, and they run pronouncedly to perforations and cool styles. Smart shoes have heels which are comfortable for walking this season, which is accounted for by manufacturers as a reflection of the fair. Fabric shoes, including leathers, are particularly popular during extremely hot weather, as are also mesh shoes. Mesh purses can be found to match the shoes.

A light weight wool awnager coat is a comforting item in any wardrobe for those occasional mornings and evenings tinged with coolness, which are not cool enough for a lined coat or a suit. Knit dresses are also standbys on such days.

Asparagus, beets, cabbage, carrots, lettuce, onions, parsley, peas, spinach, string beans, tomatoes, berries, cherries and cantaloupe are vegetables and fruits in season this month.

Doctors advise against using suntan oils and lotions for acquiring an even coat of tan, saying that gradual exposure will give the desired result without the use of any preparations.

Summer Month Time for Surprises, Variety

June, July and August, vacation months for many, mean for most of us a time when the daily routine is slightly varied and changed for our amusement and satisfaction. It is the unexpected surprises and treats which the family most appreciates these months. Setting the dinner table on the porch or under a tree on the lawn, serving frozen salads and desserts on hot days, packing up a festive lunch for a Sunday at the lake in place of a heavy meal at home, are surprises which help to brighten the summer months for any family.

"I'm Putting Up Jams and Jellies,"
Says President Roosevelt's Daughter

By Anna Roosevelt Dall

I'm often asked questions about politics and like subjects, but at present, my mind is miles away from these important world interests. Right now, a great portion of my interests is directed kitchen-ward. There's a reason, of course. I'm putting up some jams and jellies for winter, and having a grand time doing it. I'm surprised to discover that it isn't a colossal task at all, at least not with all the modern scientific aids to do it. The food markets are filled to the brim with gorgeous ripe fruits of every description. Yet I can't use more than a few boxes when they're ripest and best. So I'm capturing these beautiful colors and delicious tastes in jellies and jams.

Quite as appealing as the marvelous ripe berries themselves are the attractive price tags on them. The price of food is a matter of concern to everyone these days. During my frequent visits to the White House, I hear much talk of food economy and low-cost menus. Certainly one of the best savings to be effected now is in fresh fruits. If you know your science, jelly

"Lady," he replied with dignity, "I was manager at a bathhouse for 15 years and never took a bath."

A $1.50 Dinner for 6

THIS is a time of financial uncertainty when a really good dinner that costs no more than twenty-five cents per person is a good thing to know about and serve. So, as a contribution toward solving your temporary economic problems, we are suggesting the following dinner which fills both these requirements at prices prevailing in most places today:

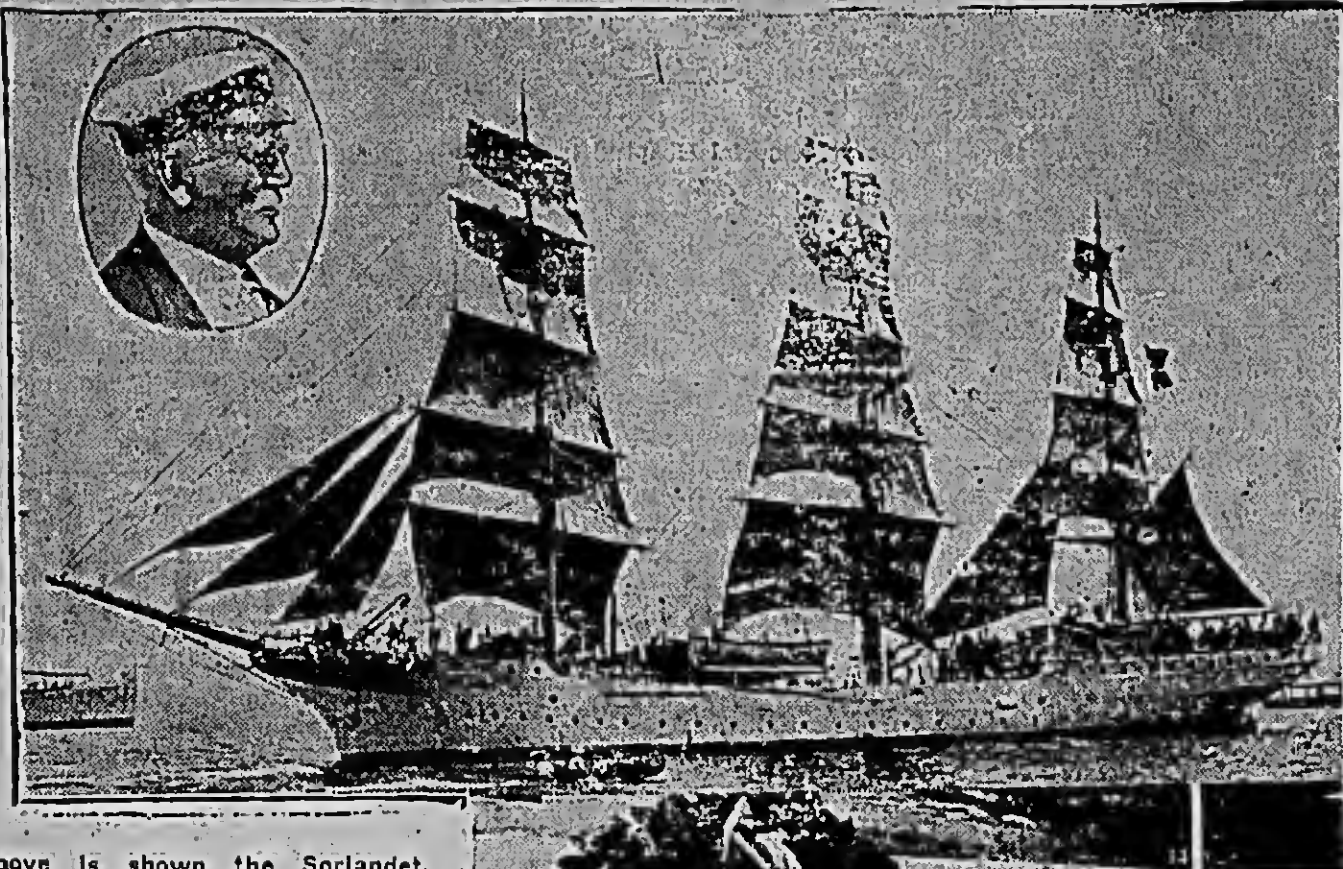

Creamed Chicken on Biscuits 77¢
Corn Fritters with Syrup 21¢
Cabbage and Tomato Salad 17¢
Black Cherry Jelly with Cream 21¢
Demi-Jus 5¢

And here are the recipes for the fritters and dessert, which do so much to make this a really good dinner.

Corn Fritters: Beat one egg well, and add to the contents of an 8-ounce can of corn. Mix together one-half cup flour, one teaspoon baking powder and one-fourth teaspoon salt, and add to the corn. Drop by spoonfuls into hot, deep fat (375° F.), and fry until brown. Make fifteen to eighteen fritters. Serve with syrup.

Black Cherry Jelly with Cream: Dissolve one package cherry gelatin in two cups boiling water, and cool. Add the syrup from an 8-ounce can of pitted black cherries. When the mixture starts to set, add the sliced cherries, and pour into a large mold (or six small ones). Chill. Serve with one cup of light cream.
